Letters after name

Over 75 years, I have survived a test, a living thesis if you will. I have been faced with questions concerning my being transsexual in order to prove my knowledge of the subject. This in order to become my true self.

The people who set these tests are who we call "Gatekeepers" They have acquired their knowledge of Transsexualism by writing papers and reading books and papers on the subject. Most are not transsexual, so have learnt this without living it 24/7. This is the problem that we have to confront as they have received their letters, but not for transsexualism.

I, as stated above, have served my living thesis and after 75 years, believe that I too, and others like me have earned our letters/colours. I have been recognised as "Transsexual/Gender Identity Disorder", lived the required "Real Life Experience", been "Full Time" and am now "Post Operative" Therefore, I consider that I qualify for the following letters after my name.

"TS/GID. RLE. FT. PO." You could use PreOP instead of PO, for those who are Pre-OP

Can my "Gatekeepers" claim the same level of understanding Transsexualism?

Yours Sincerely, Kathy Anne Noble.

You forgot to add all the study & research you have done.

Your biography could say " from xyz date Kathy has dedicated her waking life to research, counselling and being an activist for Equal Rights for Transsexual people".

I can't at this stage think of letters to condense it to.

Hi Kathy

Absolutely love the "TS/GID. RLE. FT. PO." piece. Oh yes how bloody true! Living it, not being afraid of it, experiencing it every single day and night is what it's all about. Excellent!
